Dear Mr. and Mrs. Griffin:

Thank you for taking my call just now.

My understanding is that you were advised by your "lawyer brother-in-law" to ignore this claim, and to not respond, or even try to negotiate a settlement. When I asked for contact information for this lawyer-relative so that I might try to convince him to engage in settlement talks, you said, "That's not going to happen."

I explained that this was TERRIBLE advice, and that you and your wife are leaving me no alternative but to file a suit against you and the company in U.S. District Court here in the Western District of North Carolina, and you had no comment to that. When I explained that Mr. Oppenheimer would be seeking the maximum statutory damages of $150,000 plus costs including attorney's fees, you also had no comment.

I am urging you one last time to please communicate with me (NOT Mr. Oppenheimer, as you did before), and let's resolve this claim without litigation.

I will wait until Monday morning August 20 to file suit, in hopes that you get better legal advice in the meantime, and call, or have a lawyer call me to negotiation settlement.
